THE SHIP INN INVESTIGATION

With Ghost Search UK

By Donna Gearing

Date: SATURDAY 16TH OCTOBER '04
Location: The Ship Inn, Sandgate, Kent

Stuart and Wendy have owned The Ship Inn at Sandgate, Kent for nineteen years, and have, for the best part of this time experienced paranormal activity. Many of their staff and clientele have also reported seeing/hearing and sensing a number of strange occurrences, again this has spanned well over a decade. There have been many paranormal societies that have approached Stuart and asked if they could carry out an investigation into the 'hauntings', all thus far had been refused. When we at GHOST SEARCH UK was given the go ahead to hold an all night filmed paranormal investigation, we did so with pride and with unadulterated respect for Stuart, Wendy and the Spirit that reside at The Ship Inn.

The Ship Inn

Within moments I could clearly see a Spiritual energy join us. She was a well-covered lady that appeared to be in her early fifties, true to her nature, as a lady, she would not confirm her age! Nor would she give her name. She stood approximately four foot eight in height and wore a full skirt that was grey-blue in colour, the material resembled a heavy cotton/linen mix. She wore a blouse with long full baggy sleeves, a bonnet upon her head and on her feet were clogs. The clogs seemed to be highlighted, as if they had a meaning in themselves, which I have since found the reason why and this I shall confirm later on. I noticed one of the guests, named Jack, was also picking her up and he confirmed what I could see. I remember asking Jack if he could feel anything, he replied that he felt a weight on turned to the bedroom and again conducted a séance. The more sensitive of my group were feeling Spiritual energy, some of the group sitters could feel 'someone' stand behind them. Feeling a sudden rise in body temperature was also prevalent amongst the sensitive. Whilst in the circle nothing more than feelings came through, so the séance was halted and we chatted in general about how we each in turn had been affected by the feelings being impressed upon us while we sat in circle. As we were talking a male energy walked through an adjoining wall (to the building next door) and stood before me, I gave the group a full description of what this gentleman looked like, his attire, height, and colour of hair. Yet again, Jack was also able to see him, thus confirmed the description I had just given. I watched as the male energy sidestepped out of my vision. It was then that he amazing results. Both dust particles and moisture droplets have been ruled out, as consecutive photos taken before and after, do not contain any orbs at all. These photos were taken with her own camera. We were also able to capture a small number of moving orbs on camera, these were seen and recorded in the corridors of The Ship.

Speaking to the departed

As for the lady with clogs, apparently before for The Ship Inn came to be a wet fish shop once stood. Clogs would have been worn due to the high sea level entering the premises. Clogs being made from wood, were the obvious choice of footwear, as they would not soak up the surface water that once adorned The Ship Inn floor. It was also great to hear from Stewart,
